Subject: The Wemian

To: <geoffsoul49@gmail.com>

For the last 5 years my wife ([REDACTED]) and I ([REDACTED]) have been joint editors of The Wemian. We have had to give this up due to other commitments, not least the increased workload from the pandemic situation in school. We have found a new editor and are currently training him. We need a treasurer though. Any ideas? Do you know someone who might be interested? Sadly Bob Dibben, our trusted Treasurer and friend, passed away recently. In the interim [REDACTED] will act as treasurer and we are signatories at the bank anyway.

We have managed to build up a surplus in the Wemian account over the last 5 years and would like to make a donation to the town in the region of £5K for something tangible that could bare the name of the magazine and would perhaps serve as a tribute to all the people of Wem who have served on The Wemian, giving freely of their time for the benefit of the community. Two former members of the team have passed away during our tenure, but there are many people who have helped out over time and we would like to give them a nod.

Any ideas how we go about making that donation...is via The Town Council the best option for doing that?

Kind Regards

[REDACTED]
